CATCH.3 BASIC TARGETS OF THE ORGANISATION

Among the basic targets of Farcaster are:

Stimulation of the creativity conneted with the observative use of the new technologies and unorthodox social and cultural creative activities. Using new technologies for promotion and reflection of collective as well as individual (artistic) creation. Search of time and space for realization of the creation, in the meaning mentioned above.

Thus the target of Farcaster is to support everything new, progressive and original, no matter what form and tool is used for expression. Also mono-/multi-genre features are less important.

The activities in the field of so called new media art can be same interesting as the work in ostensible traditional borders, from this point of view, and there can not be the solid key area of our interest, although we are concentrated on the digital and computer art. But besides the observation of the new ways we also aim to reflect and refresh traditional cultural issues...

One of our aims is also selective support of cross-country cooperation between NGOs in the cultural area as well as help to individual creative people, without special interest in the nationality or socio-cultural belonging of theirs.
